BROOKLYN, March 13 .- Dr. Talmage wonderful power of drawing useful, practical lessons from an obscure text, cation. The text was Deuteronomy iii, 11: "Only Og, king of Bashan, remained of the remnant of giants; behold, his bedstead was a bedstead of iron; is it not in Rabbath of the children of Ammon? Nine cubits was the length thereof and four cubits the breadth of it." The story of giants is mixed with to have been of overtowering altitude, but when in aftertime his tomb was been physically of only ordinary size. Roland the Hero was said to have been of astounding stature, but when his sepulcher was examined his armor was found only large enough to fit an ordihelmets and shields of enormous size made and left among the people whom he had conquered, so as to give the impression that he was a giant, although he was rather under than over the usual height of a man. But that in other days and lands there were real giants is authentic. One of the guards of the Duke of Brunswick was eight and a half feet high. In a museum in London is the skeleton of Charles Birne, eight feet four inches in stature. The Emperor Maximin was over eight feet.

Pliny tells of a giant nine feet high and two other giants nine and a half been about thirteen and a half feet long. and you will leave his carcass in the Judging from that the giant who occu- wilderness. Notice, furthermore, that God's people on the way to Canaan need no: be surprised if they confront some sort of a giant. Had not the Israelitish host had trouble enough already? No! Red sea myth. William the Conqueror was said not enough. Water famine not enough. Long marches not enough. Opposition by enemies of ordinary stature not opened his bones indicated that he had enough. They must need Og, the glant of the iron bedstead. "Nine cubits was the length thereof and four cubits the breadth of it." Why not let these Israclites go smoothly into Canaan without this gigantic opposition? Oh, they nary man. Alexander the Great had needed to have their courage and faith further tested and developed! And blessed the man who, in our time, in his march toward the Promised Land, does no, meet more than one giant. Do not conclude that you are not on the way to Canaan because of this obstacle. As well might the Israelites conclude they were not on the way to the Promised Land because they met Og, the giaut. Standing in your way is some evil propensity, some social persecution, some business misfortune, some physical distress. Not one of you but meets a giant who would like to hew you in twain. Higher than eleven feet this Og darkens feet. So Lon not incredulous when I the sky and the rattle of his buckler text and find King Og a stuns the ear.
